Japan

We find ourselves in Japan. There are four zones for you to explore today: City, Mountain, Jungle and Island. You may journey to any of these zones in any order. Each zone contains seven tasks.

You may work as a team to “solve” any of the tasks or you can split up if you think going it alone is a better solution. This is NOT a race against time. We will all, collectively, meet back here at the time indicated by your tour guide, Indie “Finder” Jones.

It is recommended you work as a team to crack each zone before moving on.

You may use whatever chosen method of communication suits your team: WhatsApp, Messenger, text, video conferencing, TC... shouting?

When you rejoin the main party at the end of your tour of Japan your team captains will need take your party through “border control” where your answers will be checked! This is when we discover which team knows the most and announce a winner.

When you join each zone you will be asked to choose one of seven challenges. Each challenge is different and includes the goal along with suggestions of how to be successful. At the top of each challenge you will see the map, your zone location, the challenge number (lanterns) and an answer arrow. The answer arrow will point toward white circles which indicate how many letters or numbers make up the correct answer. The red circle indicates part of a code that will be used by the Captain during the final stage: Border Control.

The more red circles successfully completed...
The greater your team chances of winning!

One more thing!

Not all tasks reward equally!

It is a competition. There will be a winner.

Few things to help you win today include:

- 1) Keep your team name a secret from other teams (to eliminate any possible cheating!)
- 2) All the tasks score five points for a correct answer... with the exception of tasks where you will see the “Golden Monkey”. These tasks will score higher points that are based on the quality, style and effort taken in comparison with other competing teams. The more elaborate your answer the higher the points awarded. Points will NOT be awarded for any golden monkey answer submitted after the rejoining time. Be aware that what you submit may be shared post-event with all the players of today's tour.
- 3) Don't be late in meeting back. When the time runs out all four zones will close.
- 4) Have fun! Keep track of your answers. May the best team win.

Good Luck!
